Assigned Reading: The readings for this course are available through Canvas. The reading for each class needs to be completed before the lesson for which it is assigned. Please bring the readings to class. This syllabus is subject to change at the discretion of the instructor – in the event of a change you will be notified in class.

Grading: The final examination will count for 40% of your grade. A midterm examination will count for 30% of your grade. Class preparation, participation and attendance will count for 30% of your grade. Class participation includes attending class, on time. Class participation also includes evidence of preparation, and thoughtful contribution to the class discussion, as well as timely completion of any in-class assignments or projects and exercises. There are five in-class exercises, shown on the syllabus. The instructor will not sign drop forms after October 8.

Class Attendance: You may have two excused absences during the semester. To use one of your excused absences, personally send an email to the instructor with the words “excused absence” in the subject line. Send this message before the class you will miss. You do not need to explain why you are missing class. These two days are yours to use as you want. You do not have to use them, but if you do use them wisely. Each unexcused absence will bring your grade down a quarter step.

Electronics Policy: Please do not have on or use electronics during regular class time. For some class exercises, you may use electronics (the instructor will let you know).
